CLAIM BOLSHIEVIK START A WIDE OFFENSIVE

INAUGURATED BY CATHEDRAL TRAGEDY AT SOFIA, BULGARIA

CONSERVATIVE PRESS OF ENGLAND SO WARNS ITS READERS

OFFICIAL DENIALS FROM SOVIET GOVERNMENT DISCLAIM COMPLICITY

(By United Press)
London, April 21.—A new Bolshevik world-wide offensive has been inaugurated by the cathedral tragedy at Sofia, the Conservative Press of England warns its readers today.

The newspapers warn every country to do its utmost to guard against and to oust agitators affiliated with Moscow.

Despite official denials from Soviet government, which disclaim complicity in any phase of the Bulgarian outrages, the Conservative Press insists upon fastening many of the present troubles upon Moscow.

It is emphasized that Europe and the world in general has reached another critical turning point punctuated with murders, armed uprisings and labor strikes.

The Daily Telegraph ridicules the idea that Bulgarians alone were responsible for the Sofia outrages and warns that "numerous dangerous Bolshevik visitors have arrived in England recently attached to Soviet sanctuaries in one way or another." There has been a similar influx into Vienna, Athens and Constantinople, says the Telegraph. "Greece was assumed to see a personnel of 51 arrive as staff for the Soviet legation when diplomatic relations were resumed with Russia," while the Vienna legation and "annexes included a bureau of military espionage."

The Morning Post said: "We are again in times when Christianity is threatened by an eastern invasion of barbarians who, in this case, are assisted by secret agents and allies in our midst."

The Post charges the influence of Moscow is behind outrages in Germany, France, Italy, Ireland, Egypt and India.

In this connection, it will be recalled that General Primo de Rivera, head of Spain's directory, alleged the Soviet government is aiding Spain's enemy in Morocco.

BIRTH CONTROL TO BE DEBATED

WOMEN VOTERS FACE DISCUSSION OF PLAN DISAPPROVED LAST YEAR

Richmond, Va., April 21.—A spirited battle over birth control was in prospect today at the national convention of the League of Women Voters.

A resolution is scheduled to be introduced in the child welfare program calling for the study of birth control and pending legislation. The proposal was defeated last year.

Mrs. Juliet Rublee of New York, prominently identified with the birth control movement, is here and will actively support the proposal. She presided at a dinner of sympathizers of the movement Sunday night.

Dr. James T. Shotwell, co-author of the Shotwell-Bliss plan for disarmament, said that a changed attitude of mind would make vindications of war in the future impossible, and that aggressive war would be considered a crime.

Dr. Shotwell explained the Geneva protocol.

Glenn Frank, who also occupied a place on the program, spoke on "The Psychology of Peace," giving some of the forces which may be assembled to bring about the international mind.

"The blackest page in United States history 500 years from now," Mr. Frank said, "will be the day when ward politics and shyster politicians in the senate turned down the world dream of Woodrow Wilson for a league of nations."

Higher Wages for 60,000 Enginemen of West

NO CHANGE IN NATION'S POLICY REGARDING RUSSIA

(By United Press)
Washington, April 21.—Secretary of State Kellogg has sent instructions to American diplomatic representatives abroad, in response to their inquiries, that there has been no change in this government's Russian policy up to the present time, the White House spokesman said today.

President Coolidge considers this action as merely routine office matter and of no special significance, it was said.

REORGANIZATION MEASURE TO BE A LAW TONIGHT

RUSH WORK BEING DONE BY THE SENATE ENROSSING CLERK

TO BE SUBMITTED FOR GOVERNOR CHRISTIANSON'S SIGNATURE TODAY

(By United Press)
St. Paul, April 21.—Legislative enactment for reorganization of the state government probably will be law by tonight.

Rush work is being done on the measure by the senate engrossing clerk who was to have it ready for submission to Governor Christianson late today for his signature. The governor wants to sign it immediately, but is not planning to make the numerous appointments given him until about May 1st. The governor also will receive today bills levying a gasoline tax of 2 cents a gallon and reducing motor vehicle taxes more than $1,000,000. These and other measures he intends to sign without delay.

He will remain in his office tonight as long as the legislature is in session to receive final bills as fast as they can be sent to him. Neither house can legally pass a bill after midnight, but in accordance with the usual custom, it is likely that the official clock in both house and senate will be turned back until all bills of any general interest are considered.

A conference committee today finally killed the rider to the game and fish omnibus bill providing that deer hunters might kill only one buck in a season. The senate passed the game and fish bill without the amendment and the house passed the measure with it. The conference committee today decided to abandon the amendment.

As the omnibus game and fish bill now stands there will be 70 amendments to the present game and fish laws, including postponement of the opening of the bass season in the northern part of the state until June 1st. Maximum catches of fish are lowered and the size minimum increased.

The legislature finally dropped the proposal to establish a highway constabulary. A conference committee eliminated from the traffic code provisions for a highway patrolman force with limited police powers. The house passed the traffic code including such provisions, but the senate turned it down.

2 SLIGHT EARTH TREMORS IN TOKIO

NO ALARM OCCASIONED BY THE DISTURBANCES IN JAPAN

(By United Press)
Tokio, April 21.—Tokio experienced two slight earthquake shocks on Monday, the first at ten minutes after midnight, the second half an hour later. The tremors were not felt generally and there was no alarm.

TURMOIL RAGES IN THE FRENCH DEPUTY CHAMBER

HOOTS AND JEERS FROM GALLERIES DIRECTED AT CAILLAUX

OPPOSITION DEPUTIES DENOUNCE HIM AS A TRAITOR

(By United Press)
Paris, April 21.—Scenes of turmoil surpassing anything within recent years occurred in the chamber of deputies this afternoon when deputies assisted by loots and jeers from the galleries, attacked the presence of Joseph Caillaux in the cabinet. So violent was the storm directed against the new finance minister that the session in which Paul Painleve read his ministerial declaration frequently was interrupted.

Opposition deputies, Charles Bertrand and Joan Goy directed their interpolations at Caillaux denouncing him as a traitor, while the new minister sat glaring defiantly at them. Communist deputies interrupted to say that "now is the time for a government of workers and peasants."

PREMIER ZANKOFF, BULGARIA, VOICES HIS CONVICTIONS

DECLARES OUTRAGE AT CHURCH RESULT OF INHUMAN CONSPIRACY

CHARGES BOLSHIEVIK WITH DIRECTING EFFORTS TOWARD BALKANS

Simultaneously with a warning by the Conservative Press of England that Russia is responsible for the recent Bulgarian outrages, Premier Zankoff of that troubled nation has given the United Press an exclusive statement in which he makes similar charges.

By Alexander Zankoff
Premier of Bulgaria
(Copyright, 1925, by United Press)
Sofia, April 21.—I'd like to bring to your knowledge the following facts:

The recent abominable outrage at the Sveti Kral cathedral which killed 200 and wounded 400 prominent Bulgarian citizens, is the result of an inhuman conspiracy against Bulgaria conceived a long time ago and whose object is self-evident.

After unsuccessful attempts to make western and central Europe Bolshevik, the third international and Russian government directed all their efforts towards the Balkans, and especially towards Bulgaria which they wished to use as a base for their further destructive activity. In carrying out their diabolical plans, they count upon communists, some radical Agrarians in Bulgaria and together with Bulgarian communists and Agrarian immigrants in some foreign countries, they formed the "united front" which should be called the "front of Bolshevism."

The instigators of unrest have spent and continue to spend large sums of money amounting to several millions for the purpose of illegal propaganda in Bulgaria, hoping our small country, exhausted by wars, disarmed and wronged, would be an easy prey.

The foregoing facts are corroborated by many documents seized by the authorities and by confessions of arrested agitators.

DEPUTIES HOOT MENTION OF NAME OF CAILLAUX

(By United Press)
Paris, April 21.—The chamber of deputies hooted the appearance of Joseph Caillaux on the ministerial bench today when Paul Painleve presented his cabinet and read the government's declaration of policy.

It was obvious from the way the deputies were divided that the new government was no longer assured of a majority in the chamber.

JAPANESE STEAMER REPORTED SINKING

S. O. S. SIGNAL RECEIVED IN NEW YORK FROM VESSEL OFF CAPE SABLE

(By United Press)
New York, April 21.—The Japanese steamer Raifuku Maru is sinking off Cape Sable, Nova Scotia, according to an S. O. S. message received by the naval communications here today.

The White Star Liner Homeric, 70 miles away, is speeding to the rescue of the crippled ship, according to another radio message received here.

The S. O. S. did not explain whether fire or a collision was placing the Japanese steamer in sinking condition. She is a 5,857 ton freighter, believed to have a cargo of wheat.

STEAMER SANK AS AID WAS NEAR

New York, April 21.—The Japanese steamer, Raifuku Maru, crippled by storms off Cape Sable, N. S., sank this morning when aid was almost in sight.

First reports relayed here from the White Star Liner Homeric to the Radio Corporation of America's station indicated all of the 60 men aboard went down with the ship.

The Homeric, which was 70 miles distant when the first distress signals were sent out, left her course and sped to give aid, but arrived too late. Reports that all aboard were lost were given strength by word from the Raifuku Maru that her life boats had been carried away by the storm which had disabled her.

Sinking of the steamer marked the climax of a dramatic race with death.

The great Homeric, the Scythia, the King Alexander and half a dozen other liners participated.

With receipt of the first S. O. S. call at 6 A. M., the Homeric bound from Southampton and Cherbourg to New York with 350 passengers, turned in its course to aid the distressed vessel.

The White Star liner was only 70 miles away, far closer than any other large ship. Cutting the storm-tossed sea at full speed, the Homeric rapidly narrowed the distance that separated her from the sinking freighter. Meanwhile additional S. O. S. calls showed that the Raifuku Maru's life boats had been crippled or swept away by the tremendous gales, and that the 60 members of the crew were trapped in the doomed vessel.

Picking up the distress signals, the other ocean liners, all within a radius of 200 miles, joined the Homeric in a dash for the scene of the impending disaster.

At 9 a. m. when the Japanese freighter reported a 30 degree list to portside, the Homeric pushing on with breakneck speed, was still two hours away. Officials of the rescue ship, however, notified the White Star office here they hoped to reach the sinking vessel in time to save the crew.

Frantic messages in broken English were received intermittently as the Homeric raced to the rescue. Finally came word from Captain Asoka of the ill-fated vessel, reading: "Now very danger—come quick."

After that the Raifuku's radio was silent.

While the White Star liner with many notables aboard was nearing the doomed freighter, a tug boat was of those aboard.

VICE PRESIDENT DAWES RENEWS SENATE ATTACK

DECLARES REVISION OF SENATE RULES IS ABSOLUTELY NECESSARY

CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT TO LEGISLATE MUST NOT BE IMPEDED

(By United Press)
New York, April 21.—Vice-President Charles G. Dawes today renewed his attack on the senate rules in speaking before the annual luncheon of the Associated Press here.

He declared revision of certain rules necessary to protect the majority of the senate in its "constitutional right to legislate."

"The purpose is not to interfere with the protection of all proper rights of the senatorial minority, but to prevent the improper use of a minority right under the senate rules from rendering the senate itself impotent," explained Dawes.

He pointed out that it is important for the rules to give every senator a "square deal," but it is imperative that they give the American people a "square deal" and that under the present system senators at the end of the session are put at the mercy of either a senate minority or any one United States senator.

"CLEAR GERMANY," SAYS HINDENBURG

GENERAL FAVORS DEMANDING ALLIES WITHDRAW WAR GUILT ACCUSATION

Berlin, April 21.—Demands that the so-called "guilt lie"—charges that Germany is solely responsible for the World War—be dropped by the allies formed practically the sole positive point of foreign policy made by Field Marshal Hindenburg in his first campaign speech before German and foreign correspondents Sunday night.

Abandonment of this "lie," Hindenburg said, "is the natural prerequisite to achievement" of his aims of "assuring the German nation full sovereignty and freedom among nations."

The aged field marshal read his speech in the barking tones familiar to his troops and commanders, but impressed foreign correspondents as lacking in fire and enthusiasm.

dispatched from Halifax and another from Canso, N. S.

Messages that had been received by the Homeric clearly indicated that the Japanese ship had been battered into a leaking condition by tremendous gales. One report stated the heavy cargo of wheat was shifted and this was believed to have expedited the sinking of the craft.

HOMERIC REPORTS ON SHIP TRAGEDY

April 21.—The Japanese freighter Raifuku Maru sank off Cape Sable, N. S., just before noon today, carrying down her crew of 60 Japanese officers and men, according to a radiogram from the White Star Liner, Homeric.

"The Homeric proceeded to the assistance of the Japanese steamer, Raifuku Maru, at 4:47 a. m. Standard time. The steamer was sighted at 10:54 a. m. and sank at 11:55 a. m. in 41.43 North 61.39 West. Regret unable to save life. Proceeded on voyage at 12:03. (Signed) Roberts."

Previously conflicting reports both to New York and Halifax had the crew alternately saved and lost.

The Homeric with 600 passengers returning to the United States from Europe had altered her course at daybreak and sped 70 miles through a rough sea to the rescue of the distressed ship. She arrived just in time to see her settle and sink into the sea, but too late to save the lives of those aboard.

STOPPED TRAIN 300 FEET FROM A HUGE BOULDER

(By United Press)
Winona, Minn., April 21.—The engineer of the Columbian Limited on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul stopped his train last night between Winona and Wabasha just in time to avert striking a huge boulder which, loosened by the heavy weekend rains, had rolled onto the track. More than 300 feet of track had been washed out along the right-of-way.

FIRING SQUADS BUSY, FEVERISH HUNT FOR SUSPECTS

BULGARIAN DISPATCHES REPORT 500 BULGARIANS WERE EXECUTED

SEVERAL VILLAGES SURROUNDED BY CORDONS OF ARTILLERY

London, April 21.—Captain Yankoff, one of the ring leaders held responsible for the cathedral bomb outrage, was killed today while stubbornly defending himself against attempts of government police to arrest him, according to a Central News dispatch from Sofia.

By ROBERT BEST
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Vienna, April 21.—Bulgarian dispatches report that 500 Bulgarians were executed or shot resisting arrest, and 5,000 of them are prisoners of the government, according to the stories brought over the Jugo-Slavo border today by hundreds of refugees who say they are fleeing from nationwide atrocities. Firing squad executions are prevalent throughout Bulgaria, the refugees claim, while a feverish hunt for suspects in connection with the cathedral outrage continues. Several villages have been surrounded by cordons of national groups of light artillery and cavalry, while they are searching for communists, the Press says.

CLAIM 4,000 KILLED, 10,000 ARRESTED

London, April 21.—Unconfirmed dispatches to the Central News from Bulgaria quoting advices obtained on the Bulgarian frontier, say that 4,000 persons have been killed and 10,000 arrested in Bulgaria since the bomb outrage in the cathedral at Sofia.

90 WESTERN RAILROADS PARTICIPATED IN WAGE RAISES

AVERTED A STRIKE WHICH SEEMED IMMINENT PAST YEAR

(By United Press)
Chicago, April 21.—A 5 per cent wage increase was granted 60,000 engineers and firemen on 90 western railways and has averted a strike which has been imminent for the past year, officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers & Firemen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & Enginemen said today. Every road, save one, settled with the unions yesterday. There were no changes in working rules, officials said. The railroads had insisted on drastic changes in the rules.

DOUGLAS LODGE HAS NEW LANDLORD

(By United Press)
St. Paul, April 21.—Douglas Lodge, the state-owned summer resort at the headwaters of the Mississippi river in Itasca state park, has been leased to Robert E. DeLury of Walker for a term of five years, according to the Ten Thousand Lakes association. The lodge for several years has been operated by J. A. McMahon of Arago.

Several improvements will be made by the state this year before the tourist season opens. The state owns everything at the resort, even to furniture, bedding and cooking utensils.

In conducting the lodge, DeLury will arrange for help from University students, selected because of their exemplary habits. No cigar users will be employed, since Douglas Lodge is situated in the heart of a primeval forest. The management will not permit the use of liquor on the grounds.

TO BUY HOTEL CLAIMS TODAY

HOTEL MORTGAGOR COMPANY TO PROTECT PROPERTY INTEREST

(St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press)
Representatives of the Massachusetts Mutual Life insurance company, mortgagors of the Breen hotel property in St. Cloud, were in town to investigate the purchase of a lienholders' title to the hotel property, preparatory to the purchase of the same to protect the mortgage which the company holds.

During the middle of last summer the Breen hotel was sold at a mortgage foreclosure sale to satisfy claims of lienholders aggregating slightly in excess of $100,000. Under the law the management of the hotel is allowed one year to redeem the property.

The insurance company holds a first mortgage against the property, second in right to the lienholder, and to protect that mortgage it was necessary for the company to pay the lien claims and take title to itself in the event of default of payment on the other claim. In the event that the company completes the purchase of the lienholders' rights the hotel will continue under its present management, and the period of grace for the satisfaction of the several claims would be extended through to the mortgage due date.

JAPANESE STEAMER REPORTED SINKING

S. O. S. SIGNAL RECEIVED IN NEW YORK FROM VESSEL OFF CAPE SABLE

(By United Press)
New York, April 21.—The Japanese steamer Raifuku Maru is sinking off Cape Sable, Nova Scotia, according to an S. O. S. message received by the naval communications here today.

The White Star Liner Homeric, 70 miles away, is speeding to the rescue of the crippled ship, according to another radio message received here.

The S. O. S. did not explain whether fire or a collision was placing the Japanese steamer in a sinking condition. She is a 5,857 ton freighter, believed to have a cargo of wheat.

STEAMER SANK AS AID WAS NEAR

New York, April 21.—The Japanese steamer, Raifuku Maru, crippled by storms off Cape Sable, N. S., sank this morning when aid was almost in sight.

First reports relayed here from the White Star Liner Homeric to the Radio Corporation of America's station indicated all of the 60 men aboard went down with the ship.

The Homeric, which was 70 miles distant when the first distress signals were sent out, left her course and sped to give aid, but arrived too late. "The Homeric proceeded to the assistance of the Japanese steamer, Raifuku Maru, at 4:47 a. m. Standard time. The steamer was sighted at 10:54 a. m. and sank at 11:55 a. m. in 41.43 North 61.39 West. Regret unable to save life. Proceeded on voyage at 12:03. (Signed) Roberts."

Previously conflicting reports both to New York and Halifax had the crew alternately saved and lost.

The Homeric with 600 passengers returning to the United States from Europe had altered her course at daybreak and sped 70 miles through a rough sea to the rescue of the distressed ship. She arrived just in time to see her settle and sink into the sea, but too late to save the lives of those aboard.

STOPPED TRAIN 300 FEET FROM A HUGE BOULDER

(By United Press)
Winona, Minn., April 21.—The engineer of the Columbian Limited on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul stopped his train last night between Winona and Wabasha just in time to avert striking a huge boulder which, loosened by the heavy weekend rains, had rolled onto the track. More than 300 feet of track had been washed out along the right-of-way.

FIRING SQUADS BUSY, FEVERISH HUNT FOR SUSPECTS

BULGARIAN DISPATCHES REPORT 500 BULGARIANS WERE EXECUTED

SEVERAL VILLAGES SURROUNDED BY CORDONS OF ARTILLERY

London, April 21.—Captain Yankoff, one of the ring leaders held responsible for the cathedral bomb outrage, was killed today while stubbornly defending himself against attempts of government police to arrest him, according to a Central News dispatch from Sofia.

By ROBERT BEST

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Vienna, April 21.—Bulgarian dispatches report that 500 Bulgarians were executed or shot resisting arrest, and 5,000 of them are prisoners of the government, according to the stories brought over the Jugo-Slavo border today by hundreds of refugees who say they are fleeing from nationwide atrocities. Firing squad executions are prevalent throughout Bulgaria, the refugees claim, while a feverish hunt for suspects in connection with the cathedral outrage continues. Several villages have been surrounded by cordons of national groups of light artillery and cavalry, while they are searching for communists, the Press says.

CLAIM 4,000 KILLED, 10,000 ARRESTED

London, April 21.—Unconfirmed dispatches to the Central News from Bulgaria quoting advice obtained on the Bulgarian frontier, say that 4,000 persons have been killed and 10,000 arrested in Bulgaria since the bomb outrage in the cathedral at Sofia.

BEVERLY BAYNE FILES SUIT FOR DIVORCE FROM FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN

Los Angeles, April 21.—Charging desertion, Beverly Bayne, movie actress, has filed suit for divorce from Francis X. Bushman.

Miss Bayne asks custody of their minor child, Richard. The Bushmans were married in New York on July 18, 1918, after being featured together in film productions for several years. Miss Bayne claims her husband deserted her February 24, 1924.

WAGE INCREASE GRANTED ENGINEERS AND THE FIREMEN

90 WESTERN RAILROADS PARTICIPATED IN WAGE RAISES

AVERTED A STRIKE WHICH SEEMED IMMINENT PAST YEAR

(By United Press)
Chicago, April 21.—A 5 per cent wage increase was granted 60,000 engineers and firemen on 90 western railways and has averted a strike which has been imminent for the past year, officials of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers & Firemen and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen & Enginemen said today. Every road, save one, settled with the unions yesterday. There were no changes in working rules, officials said. The railroads had insisted on drastic changes in the rules.

DOUGLAS LODGE HAS NEW LANDLORD

(By United Press)
St. Paul, April 21.—Douglas Lodge, the state-owned summer resort at the headwaters of the Mississippi river in Itasca state park, has been leased to Robert E. DeLury of Walker for a term of five years, according to the Ten Thousand Lakes association. The lodge for several years has been operated by J. A. McMahon of Arago.

Several improvements will be made by the state this year before the tourist season opens. The state owns everything at the resort, even to furniture, bedding and cooking utensils.

In conducting the lodge, DeLury will arrange for help from University students, selected because of their exemplary habits. No cigaret users will be employed, since Douglas Lodge is situated in the heart of a primeval forest. The management will not permit the use of liquor on the grounds.

TO BUY HOTEL CLAIMS TODAY

HOTEL MORTGAGOR COMPANY TO PROTECT PROPERTY INTEREST

(St. Cloud Daily Journal-Press)
Representatives of the Massachusetts Mutual Life insurance company, mortgagors of the Breen hotel property in St. Cloud, were in town to investigate the purchase of a lienholders' title to the hotel property, preparatory to the purchase of the same to protect the mortgage which the company holds.

During the middle of last summer the Breen hotel was sold at a mortgage foreclosure sale to satisfy claims of lienholders aggregating slightly in excess of $100,000. Under the law the management of the hotel is allowed one year to redeem the property.

The insurance company holds a first mortgage against the property, second in right to the lienholder, and to protect that mortgage it was necessary for the company to pay the lien claims and take title to itself in the event of default of payment on the other claim. In the event that the company completes the purchase of the lienholders' rights the hotel will continue under its present management, and the period of grace for the satisfaction of the several claims would be extended through to the mortgage due date.

SMALL BOY HURT

Carlos Roxburg, Son of Arvid Roxburg, Struck by Range Bus

Carlos Roxburg, son of Arvid Roxburg and Mrs. Arvid Roxburg, living near the Dodd corner on East Oak Street, is recovering from injuries received in an accident near his home on Saturday afternoon.

The boy and his brother were out in the road, according to reports, when the Cuyuna Range bus from Crosby and Ironton came by. The driver turned out to dodge the brother, it is said, and in doing so struck Carlos, throwing him to the paving.

The boy sustained a gash on his head and a broken finger on one hand. The driver of the bus stopped immediately, picked up injured lad and brought him to the hospital, where medical attention was given.

5 ROYAL HUSSAR GIRLS

Regular Prices at New Park Wednesday, Include Pictures And Above Attraction

The Five Royal Hussar Girls have been secured by the New Park theatre as an added attraction to their Wednesday matinee and night shows. The act made such a hit in St. Cloud that it was held over two days in order to give all St. Cloud a chance to see and hear them.

There are five pretty girls in the act who are among the most accomplished musicians ever booked. In one number they appear as a saxophone quint. In another, as trumpeters. There is also a bass soloist. In the regular instrumentation they play cornet, two trombones, French horn and bass.

The girls wear attractive costumes and put on an act of interest to everybody, and the Park should certainly be packed Wednesday afternoon and evening to see and hear them.

This offering is in addition to the regular program including the picture "Beau Brummel" and the "The Short Subject." Regular prices will prevail.

PACIFIC NORTHWEST SHOWN IN PICTURES

Dr. J. P. Rowe, Professor of Geology,
to Lecture at High School
Auditorium

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 24TH

No Admission Charged And Public
is Cordially Invited to Attend

Doctor J. P. Rowe, professor of geology at the University of Montana at Missoula, will talk about the Pacific Northwest at the auditorium of the Brainerd high school, on Friday evening, April 24th, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

This talk will be illustrated by stereopticon views, about 200 slides being used, and the pictures are said to be of special interest, among them many beautiful scenes taken in the West.

The travel talk includes the story of Lewis and Clark, their dramatic exploration of the Northwest, descriptions of Yellowstone Park, and interesting facts about the doctor's own state, Montana.

As a scientist and a lover of nature, Dr. Rowe is able to tell much about the Pacific Northwest and the northern Rocky mountain states which is unknown to the average person.

This illustrated talk is both instructive and entertaining, and should prove a revelation to all who attend. There is no admission charge whatever, and the public is invited to be present.

Dr. Rowe speaks in English and Little Falls before completing his itinerary in this section of the state. He has been welcomed with large audiences wherever he has spoken, and it is hoped that Brainerd will turn out in force to hear his message.

Lively's stock of Ford parts is complete in every detail. Open day and night. 981

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

From It Grew America's Second Metropolis

Illinois has two forts which may well lay claim to being included among the most famous in American history—Fort Chartres on the Mississippi and Fort Dearborn on Lake Michigan. Just as the massive bastions of Fort Chartres typified the rule of the Old world—the French—in the Mississippi valley so did the log walls of Fort Dearborn represent the reign of the New, the American.

There were two Fort Dearborns, the first built in 1803 by Capt. John Whistler (an ancestor of the famous painter) and named for Gen. Henry Dearborn, secretary of war. Soon after the outbreak of the War of 1812 General Hull at Detroit ordered Capt. Nathan Heald to evacuate Fort Dearborn and march to Fort Wayne, Ind. Heald, although the sullen behavior of the Pottawatomie Indians around the fort augured ill, prepared to obey the order. On the morning of August 15, 1812, "there issued forth the saddest procession Michigan avenue has ever known"—the garrison of Fort Dearborn marching to its death.

They had not gone south along the lake shore very far until the Indians opened fire upon them and within a few minutes the Fort Dearborn massacre had added its list of 53 slaughtered men, women and children, to the bloody annals of border history. The story of that massacre is both a tale of horrors and a recital of heroism unparalleled—how Capt. William Wells rode to the rescue of Mrs. Heald, his niece, and how he sold his life so dearly; how an Indian sprang into the wagons bearing the children and tomahawked all of them save one; how Mrs. Corbin fought her attackers until she was literally cut to pieces; how Sergeant Hayes engaged in a hand-to-hand combat with an Indian, ran his bayonet into the savage's breast so deeply that it could not be pulled out and how, supported by the bayonet, the Indian tomahawked the soldier and the two warriors fell dead together; how Black Partridge, the Pottawatomie chief, saved Mrs. Helm, the incident commemorated in a monument standing where it took place.

Although the second Fort Dearborn, built in 1817, became an important military and fur trading post, it never provided such a dramatic reason for being remembered as the first. That memory is a cherished tradition of the city which grew up on its site—America's second metropolis, Chicago.

Lenny Really Didn't Know Weight of Hog

If old Lenny Fokkett was anything more than deliberate, he was exasperating. He moved, spoke and lived at his own sweet will, and no one had ever been known to budge him. He came into the village store one morning, threw himself down on the bench in front of the counter and announced that he had just killed his prize hog.

"Guess how much he weighed, boys," he drawled.

"Two hundred and seventy-five," ventured one of the loungers.

Lenny shook his head.

Others offered suggestions; the guesses grew so brisk that it began to sound like an auction. All sorts of weights were given, but to all of them Lenny merely shook his head. The others began to lose patience. From mere curiosity they began to long passionately to learn the weight of the hog and pass on to another subject.

"Well, for heaven's sake, how much did your old hog weigh?" somebody demanded. "We've guessed every figure possible! How much did he weigh?"

Lenny yawned. "Hi—hum, I dunno," he drawled. "I ain't weighed him yet."—Youth's Companion.

Man-Made Earthquake

It is believed that the numerous small earthquakes recently reported from the Midlands of England are due to the handiwork of man. In excavating for coal and iron the miner cuts away millions of tons of rock and coal and piles it on the surface, thus setting up all sorts of stresses. In July, 1913, dwellers near the coast of Carnarvonshire were startled out of their sleep by loud subterranean rumblings, while the earth quivered over an area of many square miles. It was found that a considerable area of land lying between the Rhyls granite quarries and the shore had started to slide seaward. The fact was that the waste of the quarries which for years has been dumped on this lower ground, had proved too much for it, and had set the whole ledge sliding, producing a very good imitation of a real earthquake.

Tree-Climbing Fish

In India there is a fish known as the tree-climbing perch. Technically the scientists call it "ambassis testudineus scandens." By means of its fins and gills this fish can travel overland from one body of water to another. Its breathing apparatus is adapted for life out of the water. Stories about this fish's ability to climb trees should be taken with liberal portions of salt. The United States bureau of fisheries informs us that these tales of its tree-climbing propensity "are heritages from early travelers and are largely mythical." However, the climbing perch has been known to work its way upon stones and inclined tree trunks. This is as close as it ever comes to climbing trees.—Exchange.

She Wanted a Change

Betty had only lately been instructed in the matter of evening prayers, and her performance was exemplary until the occasion when she startled her mother with the petition: "Bless Thy little pig tonight."

She was reminded that the correct word was "lamb," but refused to return to orthodoxy.

At last, when pressed for the cause of this stubborn naughtiness, she replied that she was tired of being a lamb. "Every night," she protested, "it has been lamb, lamb, lamb! So tonight I'm going to be a pig, and tomorrow night I am going to be an elephant."

Little Reverence for Long-Dead Statesmen

The Pantheon is visited nowadays under conditions which seem decidedly lacking in the respect due to the memory of great men. You pay a franc to get inside the building, and for 50 centimes more you can join an assembly of trippers for a visit to the crypts in the wake of a guide who appears to be on very familiar terms with the distinguished dead buried there, says Paris Figure.

The aforesaid guide will rather disdainfully show you the basement where not less than forty statesmen of the first empire sleep. The other day he pointed out the tomb of Zola, Jaures and Carnot, and an English woman in the party asked if she might go into one of the tombs. To this the guide replied carelessly that it really was not worth while, as she could see all these fellows at the Musee Grevin, "where they're all life-size and made of wax."

D. E. WHITNEY TO BUILD ADDITION

2 Story Fireproof Building, 25 by 45 Feet, Contemplated by Undertaker

VERNON WHITE IS CONTRACTOR

Mr. Whitney Has Needed Large Quarters For Some Time, Making Addition Imperative

D. E. Whitney began work today on an addition to his undertaking establishment at 720 Front street.

This addition is to be a two-story fireproof building, 25 feet by 45 feet on the ground, running back from the present building to within five feet of the alley.

The first floor will contain garage space for Mr. Whitney's two hearses, and the balance, for the present will be used for storage purposes, with the idea of ultimately using it as a morgue. It will have a cement floor throughout and will be as nearly fireproof as it can be made.

The second floor will be given over exclusively to storage space for the large line of funeral supplies that is carried.

Vernon White has the contract for the building, and the construction will be pushed to completion as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Whitney has needed large quarters for some little time, and this increase in the establishment gives him one of the largest in this section of the state.

Dr. J. P. Rowe, Professor of Geology,
to Lecture at High School
Auditorium

FRIDAY EVENING, APRIL 24TH

No Admission Charged And Public
is Cordially Invited to Attend

Doctor J. P. Rowe, professor of geology at the University of Montana at Missoula, will talk about the Pacific Northwest at the auditorium of the Brainerd high school, on Friday evening, April 24th, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock.

This talk will be illustrated by stereopticon views, about 200 slides being used, and the pictures are said to be of special interest, among them many beautiful scenes taken in the West.

The travel talk includes the story of Lewis and Clark, their dramatic exploration of the Northwest, descriptions of Yellowstone Park, and interesting facts about the doctor's own state, Montana.

As a scientist and a lover of nature, Dr. Rowe is able to tell much about the Pacific Northwest and the northern Rocky mountain states which is unknown to the average person.

This illustrated talk is both instructive and entertaining, and should prove a revelation to all who attend. There is no admission charge whatever, and the public is invited to be present.

Dr. Rowe speaks in Staples and Little Falls before completing his itinerary in this section of the state. He has been welcomed with large audiences wherever he has spoken, and it is hoped that Brainerd will turn out in force to hear his message.

FAMOUS FORTS IN U. S. HISTORY

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

From It Grew America's Second Metropolis

Illinois has two forts which may well lay claim to being included among the most famous in American history—Fort Chartres on the Mississippi and Fort Dearborn on Lake Michigan. Just as the massive bastions of Fort Chartres typified the rule of the Old world—the French—in the Mississippi valley so did the log walls of Fort Dearborn represent the reign of the New, the American.

There were two Fort Dearborns, the first built in 1803 by Capt. John Whistler (an ancestor of the famous painter) and named for Gen. Henry Dearborn, secretary of war. Soon after the outbreak of the War of 1812 General Hull at Detroit ordered Capt. Nathan Heald to evacuate Fort Dearborn and march to Fort Wayne, Ind. Heald, although the sullen behavior of the Pottawatomie Indians around the fort augured ill, prepared to obey the order. On the morning of August 15, 1812, "there issued forth the saddest procession Michigan avenue has ever known"—the garrison of Fort Dearborn marching to its death.

They had not gone south along the lake shore very far until the Indians opened fire upon them and within a few minutes the Fort Dearborn massacre had added its list of 53 slaughtered men, women and children, to the bloody annals of border history. The story of that massacre is both a tale of horrors and a recital of heroism unparalleled—how Capt. William Wells rode to the rescue of Mrs. Heald, his niece, and how he sold his life so dearly; how an Indian sprang into the wagons bearing the children and tomahawked all of them save one; how Mrs. Corbin fought her attackers until she was literally cut to pieces; how Sergeant Hayes engaged in a hand-to-hand combat with an Indian, ran his bayonet into the savage's breast so deeply that it could not be pulled out and how, supported by the bayonet, the Indian tomahawked the soldier and the two warriors fell dead together; how Black Partridge, the Pottawatomie chief, saved Mrs. Heald, the incident commemorated in a monument standing where it took place.

Although the second Fort Dearborn, built in 1817, became an important military and fur trading post, it never provided such a dramatic reason for being remembered as the first. SENSE VERSUS SENTIMENT

THERE seems to be a growing tendency toward a maudlin sentimentality in this country toward hunting, which normal, straight-thinking Americans would do well to combat. People of this school would abolish all hunting and advance all sorts of silly and fantastic reasons for this stand. They point to the occasional shooting accidents, but neglect to note that motoring, football, baseball, boating, and even golf are all dangerous sports when measured by the same standard. As a matter of fact, shooting accidents are extremely rare, and hunting tends to familiarize men and women with firearms and to train them in their proper and safe use.

Another objection is the expense and "waste" of money involved. Compared to most other forms of recreation, hunting is, in fact, inexpensive. There is also the soft-headed argument against taking life of any kind.

Fortunately the love for field sport, with the dog and gun, is too firmly grounded in this country to be overcome by any such well-meaning but absurd propaganda. The principal legitimate reason for conserving wild game is that the opportunity for taking it, by hunting may be continued and projected indefinitely into the future. Field sport with the gun is not, as some argue, the mere gratification of the blood lust in man—but is an expression of that inherent, but in some cases atrophied, love of the chase and its association with the wild places, the open air, woods, waters, and freedom from the drudge and restraint of our regular daily life.

Hunting is an honorable form of recreation, and develops the higher instincts of men. It exposes the base and selfish traits as well and so tends to create better standards in our human relations. The terms "sportsman" and "gentleman" are, or should be, synonymous.

America surpasses every other country in the world in the mental, moral and physical quality of its young men. American soldiers are the hardest, have the most initiative, and are the best marksmen in the world. These things have not come by chance, nor merely from our "melting pot" of races. They have come largely from the fact that our forefathers laid the foundation of bone, muscle, and brain in their conquest of the wilderness. They bred a race of marksmen and athletes, and not the least factor in this development was the universal practice of hunting and the use of firearms.

They established the principle of public ownership of wild animals and free shooting. This is our heritage, which we have a right to guard and preserve, but with it is imposed the responsibility of preserving opportunity for its enjoyment for ourselves and posterity.

EUROPE IS IN A FIGHTING MOOD

It looks as if our war to end war has failed to instill its peace-loving sentiments. On all sides one finds a restless Europe, with bloody revolts in some places, changes of government anticipated in others, and the forces of reaction making desperate attempts to regain their places in saddles of feudalism.

In Germany one finds the cohorts of republicanism arrayed against the old, hoary exponents of monarchism. A Hindenburg who led his troops to bloody battle, is a candidate for the presidency of the republic. France is having her trouble with the fluctuating franc and seems to have no plan of ever reducing military expenditures. Governmental changes are in progress in little Belgium. Italy, Spain and Turkey have troubles of their own.

Spain's withdrawal to a new line in Morocco reads like the Germans backing up in the world war. King Boris the other day saved his head from assassins, but may lose his crown because of uprisings.

The first of May in Europe is always devoted to some exposition of unrest and this year it may flame into the most serious trouble. In the past it has been labor which issued its pronouncements on that day. This year sees whole nations in internal trouble.

As one views Europe, parts of Africa and the Near East, one again realizes that America is a good country, a wonderful place to be in, and that citizenship in the U. S. A. is one of our most priceless possessions and heritages.

TWO BORES AT THE MOVIES

THERE are two bores at the movies, two flies which swamp the ointment of pure delight when one attends the show. One, thank goodness, is rapidly decreasing and he's the person who reads aloud the titles.

The other, and he has suffered no diminution in tribal numbers, is the person who over-laps his seat like bread over-running the pan and who jabs his knees in the back of your seat and then, to complete the subjugation of your nervous system, puts you on the tenterhooks of irritation by keeping time with the music.

He can be partially subdued and made to stop his foot tapping if the pianist confines herself to severely classical music which has its "tune" well shrouded in showy passages and odd tempo. But no music appears to enter his kneecaps and those parts of his anatomy persist in firmly lodging in the back of your seat.

One ticket entitles a person to one seat, and common decency ought to penetrate a seat "hog's" consciousness and make him aware of the rights of other ticket payers. No theatre seat was built with the idea of being a couch and of carrying its occupants in a lounging position.

THE rains in our Brainerd Lake Region came just as they were ordered. Light, soaking rains have been followed by warmer weather today, and one can just see the grass bounding into view.

ACCORDING to the tests made, it is asserted that human intelligence reaches its maximum at 16 years of age. Yes, that's the time we think we know everything.

THE good politician will bear no resentment if he has been defeated. Neither will he show resentment if a pet measure has been defeated.

PEACE PACT FOR REPUBLICS OF AMERICA DRAFTED

By LUDWELL DENNY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Washington, April 21.—Projects to outlaw wars of conquest in the Western Hemisphere, and to establish a Pan-American Court, have been drafted here by the American Institute of International Law and transmitted through the Pan-American Union to the various American republics for their consideration.

The purpose is to establish as "a fundamental concept of international law," that "in the future territorial acquisitions obtained by means of war or under the menace of war or in the presence of an armed force to the detriment of any American republic, shall not be lawful."

The republics would not recognize territorial conquests as conferring sovereignty or title.

Accompanying this proposal are 29 other draft projects which will form the groundwork for the deliberations of the International Commission of Jurists, meeting at Rio de Janeiro within a year to consider the codification of international law for this hemisphere.

If adopted, the projects would greatly promote the solidarity of the 20 American republics through legal agencies and the common acceptance of binding principles of international law, diplomats here say.

A court of first instance and another court of appeal are included in the plan for a Pan-American Court. Participation by Canada is provided for the court.

Agencies for the Pacific settlement of controversies would be established through agreement on certain general principles relating to "good of the" and mediation, and also by provision for Commissions of Inquiry in serious questions.

Complete autonomy on the debated question of immigration laws and policies is guaranteed to each country in a short-draft project. It reads:

"Every republic may determine, taking into consideration its local conditions, what persons or class of persons it shall permit to enter its territory, and to whom it may eventually and at its discretion concede nationality."

Careful definition of the distinction between the proposed codification of American law and universal international law is laid down as follows:

"By the act of incorporating themselves into the community of nations, the American republics recognized as applicable to themselves the international law in force in Europe. But at the same time and thereafter they have maintained the right to reject or to protest against the rules in force in Europe which were in contradiction to their independence and sovereignty; they have maintained the power to proclaim other principles or rules in harmony with the new conditions of their existence and more favorable to their free development. They have claimed especially the right to establish fundamental bases for American international society in conformity with their necessities and aspirations."

Try Joint-Ease for Lame Back

Rub it on tonight and ten to one your backache or lumbago will be gone in the morning.

That's quick enough for anyone and may give you a big surprise. But please bear in mind that the quick action of Joint-Ease no longer surprises the millions of people who have used it for stiff, creaky, swollen, pain tormented joints; neither will it surprise the tens of thousands who have discovered that it brings almost instant relief to those who suffer from neuritis, sciatica, pleurisy, bronchitis, chest colds, sore feet and sore throat.

Joint-Ease with only a minute's rubbing soaks right in through skin and flesh right down to the seat of the trouble—and blessed relief follows.

Brainerd's Popularity As a Lake Resort Center Growing Rapidly

The people of Minnesota and all nature lovers are rapidly learning what Brainerd people already know—that we are right in the heart of the most beautiful lake and woods section of the state.

During the last few days we have helped boost in the following ways.

E. T. CEDARLEAF has bought material for a cottage to be built on Long Lake.

A. C. FLOAN will start work on his new summer home on Gull Lake very soon. It is near the Government Dam. ALBIN JOHNSON has put up several new cottages on his Mille Lacs resort.

I W. QUINLAN has built a new log cottage on Gull Lake. MRS. CAPLIN has enlarged her summer home near Grand View on Gull Lake.

And we are answering lake cottage questions and showing plans and making estimates every day.

EIGHT GIRLS ATTEND SHORT COURSE AT MINNESOTA AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE

Features of the Week Were Numerous Visits to Various Points of Importance in the Twin Cities and Vicinity

On Monday April 6, eight girls from the Home Economics department of the high school left for St. Paul to attend the fifteenth annual Boys' and Girls' Short Course which was held at the Minnesota Agricultural College. The entire week was devoted to classes in the morning and educational trips in the afternoon.

"Dickeracka! Dickeracka! Knickerbocker Boo! Junior Short Course Minnesota U."

This yell and many others rang through the streets as car after car chartered for the purpose, made its way to Stillwater, where the crowd was taken through the Minnesota State Prison. It was most interesting to learn the history of the Prison from the old frame building of 1849 with accommodations for about one hundred, to the magnificent prison plant of today, costing $285,999.95 and accommodating 1,007 men, (at present date). A large central corridor divides the two cell-houses, each containing 512 cells. Other interesting things were the Twine factory and warehouses, printing shop, school rooms, prison library, farm machinery buildings, hospital, dining halls, and kitchen.

Instructive lectures were given each morning in the auditorium, and classes were attended according to the number of the group, each girl receiving a number when registering. There were classes in sewing, cooking, canning, serving, and there were lessons given in making novelty articles from "next to nothing." There were bread and cake demonstrations and demonstrations in altering patterns and jello making.

This year a new course was taken up on "News Writing" by Miss Leonor Dunnigan, Field Editor on the "Farmers Wife."

Wednesday afternoon a trip was taken through the Art Institute, where the guide explained all of the pictures, and statues, giving the life history of many of the artists. Dayton's store was also a place of interest, where the warehouses were inspected. In the evening a big banquet was enjoyed by all the members of the Short Course, and the school faculty.

Thursday was a busy day, as three trips were taken. The most important and most interesting of these was the visit to the State Capitol. The guide explained in detail the magnificent paintings and named the various stones and precious minerals used in the building. The crowd was taken to the Senate Gallery and stayed for some time watching the Senate in session. All of the rooms, including the Supreme Court room and Governor's reception room were visited. Next the Historical Building was visited and the Webb Publishing Company, both of which were very fascinating. On Friday a trip was made to Minnehaha Falls and to the Fish Hatcheries.

When one of the girls was asked what she thought of the Short Course she said, "One week there, is worth three at school according to the amount of things you learn."

One Day at Short Course
6:10—Prelude by alarm clock.
6:15—Song of Soap and Water.
6:30—Address by curling iron (same thing every day, four heads to curl in fifteen minutes.)

6:45—Questions start (where's my hat. Anyone seen my vanity case? Well, it was here last night (what was here last night might be anywhere by morning.)

7:00—Breakfast: pasteurized milk, cocoa, rolls and cereal.

7:15—Ready for events of the day, trip to the auditorium (about 100 yds.) for orders.

7:30—Classes start over in the Home Economics building. Then for a thrill of a lifetime, attending a bread demonstration. Learn Pledge at 7:30 class.

I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to greater service, and my health to better living for my club, my community, and my country.

8:25—Learn to make a "Next to nothing corner." Magicians have nothing on us for out of a piece of

Who, What and Where

The eight girls who attended the Short Course at the U. of Minnesota were Katherine Nolan, Alda James, Emma Jean Clarkson, Mercedes Johnson, Dorothy Ellison and Alice Johnson. A very good time is reported by all and they say that Kay Nolan was the shy and quiet one while Mercedes did all the "cutting up." Queer how people do change.

The Brainonian of last week stated that the Senior Class President was ill with the mumps. One would never think that the Seniors would have such childish things as that. It may set a bad example for the lower classmen. (The writers of the above article can thank their stars that the Senior reporter claims to have a sense of humor.)

The Seniors are now in the ninth inning with ninety-two men on bases and six weeks to go before graduation. Make the most of it!

Miss Rickard has collected a large coterie of voices for an outstanding commencement chorus and the orchestra will soon be doing overtime work to make this a commencement of commencements.

Much interest has been aroused over the display of the under classmen's pictures in the 10,000 Lakes Studio window. The general consensus of opinion is that they turned out good (the pictures), but what about the turn-out of the Juniors? Very few masculine members were visible.

Emily Cocks, one of B. H. S.' most famous cartoonists, has also contracted the mumps. Who'll be the next victim?

At a Senior meeting Monday night Rev. Patterson was selected as the speaker for baccalaureate.

wrapping paper some oil and paints we produced a lamp that would dazzle the eyes of a King.

9:30—New course of study just introduced this year: How to write successful items by use of six words—namely: what, when, where, who, why, and how.

10:30—How to prepare luncheons for club meetings. We made salad, cocoa, fruit punch, and sandwiches.

11:30—Back to dormitory to clean up for lunch.

11:45—Another appointment with curling iron, soap and water.

12:00—Lunch: Potatoes, meat, one kind of vegetable, milk and dessert. (No trouble selecting your salad fork here. They don't have any.)

12:30—Over to Auditorium for orders about trips for the afternoon.

12:45—Start for Webb Publishing Company.

2:00—Trip to Capital building.

3:00—See Senate in session. (Bill before them was: Should private schools be allowed to teach the Bible?)

4:00—Wait for street car.

4:15—Sang songs and gave yells on street cars. (We had chartered cars.)

5:30—Arrive at school campus.

5:45—Roll call at dormitory.

6:00—Chow in the dining hall.

6:30—Tumbled over to the auditorium.

7:00—Show began. ("Welcome Strangers")

9:30—Back to dormitory.

9:45—Roll call. (Some girls from Brainierd were missing. Then a beam of light on the subject—Here they come!)

10:00—And all's well in room 29. (Our room.)

10:30—Good Night Ladies. Sweet dreams to all.

As sayeth the American Legion Weekly:

The wife and daughter of Colonel Berry, camp commander, came to the gate after taps and demanded admission. The sentry objected.

"But, my dear man, you don't understand," expostulated the older woman, "we are the Berrys."

"I don't care if you're the cat's whiskers," retorted the sentry, "you can't get in at this hour."

Little Danny's Diary
Atlantic Needle, Atlantic, Iowa Tuesday, the twenty-fourth.

This morning I arose bright and early and wended my way to school like all these magazine characters I've read about do, only they wend their way up mountains instead of to school.

I started to study the first thing when I got into the assembly but I noticed some of those seniors watching me so I stopped, but when I saw Miss Dickerson watching me I began again. I never do much in the morning because I have classes all the time. After dinner, I mean lunch, I have two assembly periods so I make up for it then.

The first period I got a magazine called "Success" but after reading it about ten minutes I decided the name did not in any way refer to the magazine itself. I could not stand this book so I took my freshman algebra which is supposed to teach the art of reasoning. I reasoned out that the only reason that this book was in school was because someone was a clever salesman, and that's that.

The rest of the afternoon was too good to be true because—well—you know that this afternoon I actually discovered that I was growing a beard. I told someone before he could notice it and whoever it was said that it reminded him of a horse-shoe game—one on each side. Shucks, he was just jealous.

This is all for today. Since I am going to scout meeting tonight I must save my strength; we are going to see who can light a fire with two matches.

The Freshmen
We, the freshmen of '25, are always right there, up and alive. We're the ones they ridicule, because we're new to all the rules.

But although we may not be so bright, Our motto is to do what's right. We may at times be up to pranks, But if we're punished we are not cranks.

We'll stick together in work and in play, And we'll be rewarded some fine day. So if we have patience, work hard and try, We'll be Seniors by and by.

April Fool
Now the winter months are over, And April is coming at last; The month brings with it its showers And the first day brings its jests.

Clifford W.: "Are the spines on sand burrs leaves like the spines on cactus on the deserts to protect them from drouth?"

Miss Erstad: "No, they're seeds." Clifford: "Gee, I wish they didn't have seeds then."

Norva K. (Botany): "However does Miss L. expect us to draw this fern leaf, anyway?"

Vivian F.: "Why, that's easy. Just draw a Christmas tree!"

Teacher: "Boyhood is something every person has."

Marius Seeger: "Oh, no, girls don't."

On Report Card Day, Emil Meifert: "Well, I got A, B—"

Kent Whitlock: "What in?" Emil: "Football, last year."

Miss Erstad (In Phys. Geog.): "What is a barrel cactus?"

C. S.: "It's a cross between a tree and a sandburr."

Miss Hall (Ancient History): "Name the different ages in history."

Lena P.: "Stone age, bronze age, Iron age."

Miss Hall: "What age are we living in now?"

Lena P.: "Hard boiled age."

Milt Hill has turned farmer, according to his costume.

Al: "You certainly sting a terrible lingo. You ought to go to London and learn the King's English."

Mart: "Oh, I know he's English."

I'm off that girl for life. Why? She asked me if I danced well. I was dancing with her when she asked me.

The District Commercial Contest was held here Saturday, April 18, St. Cloud, Little Falls, Crosby, Staples and Brainerd participating. The winners of the first three places in each contest are eligible for the state contest to be held at the Farm School, University of Minnesota, on May 2. The following are the results of the contests:

Advanced Typewriting
Alice Anderson—St. Cloud.
Ann Klanson—St. Cloud.
Edith Erickson—Brainerd.
Evelyn Weiss—Brainerd.
Lila Alden—Staples.
Martha Maki—Crosby.
Florence Anderson—Little Falls.
Eva Ring—Little Falls.

Beginning Typewriting
Marion Hammond—St. Cloud.
Inez Jones—St. Cloud.
Nina Romain—Brainerd.
Alice Benson—Brainerd.

Lila Alden—Staples.

Figuring by points the five schools rank as follows:

St. Cloud
Brainerd
Staples
Little Falls
Crosby.

The Commercial Department wishes to thank the contestants, Miss Anderson of the Brainerd Business College, who acted as dictator, Miss Wanus and the Cooking Department for the lovely lunch served, and all others who helped to make the contest a success.

Hi-Y Election

Last Wednesday the Hi-Y club elected the following officers for the coming school year:

President—Raymond Anderson.
Vice President—Norman Viken.
Secretary—Stewart Gile.
Treasurer—Howard Nicholson.

All of them went to the Hi-Y officers training council at Cloquet Friday and Saturday together with Alfred Dillan and ex-President Mark Patterson.

The representatives of the Hi-Y club of the north eastern part of the State attended this council. Among the speakers were Mr. MacLoud of Duluth, Bruce Fallman, Mr. Bland of Eveleth and Mr. Chase of Virginia.

The council opened with a banquet on Friday evening. On Saturday the morning was spent in discussions on the duties of the officers and the afternoon in a discussion lead by Mr. Fallman on the work of the Hi-Y club and a fine speech by Mr. MacLoud.

Great kindness was shown us by our hosts and hostesses who very kindly gave over their homes for our lodging and by the Cloquet Y. M. C. A. who gave the use of the privilege of the building to us.

Normal Training Notes

Election
Have you noticed the new hats in our department since the appearance of the last Brainonian? This is due to the article in the last issue in which Mr. Johnson commended us on the training we give at our end of the hall. (Normal Training Room of course!) We are very grateful to him for this and in order to show our appreciation we are bestowing a great honor upon him. We have unanimously elected Mr. Johnson as president of the "Ladies Aid!"

Al: "You certainly sting a terrible lingo. You ought to go to London and learn the King's English."

Mart: "Oh, I know he's English."

I'm off that girl for life. Why? She asked me if I danced well. I was dancing with her when she asked me.

B. H. S. SCORES WIN IN FIRST GAME, 7-5; LOCALS OUTPLAY THE RANGE TEAM

Brainerd High School chalked up its first baseball victory of the season last Saturday afternoon, when it defeated Crosby-Ironton at the latter's grounds by a score of 7-5.

The game was very interesting throughout, being well played for the first game of the season. Brainerd's outlook for a successful season was considerably brightened by its exhibition Saturday. B. H. S. trailed behind for eight innings and the score at the beginning of the ninth stood 5-3 in favor of Crosby. Brainerd then staged a successful rally, pounding the ball at will, bringing in four runs, more than enough to cinch the game.

Three of Crosby's runs were made when Engbretson passed three men in a row, the next man making a long drive, bringing all of them in.

The heavy hitting for Brainerd consisted of a double against the left field fence by Larson and a long three-bagger by Hanson.

Woock did the mound work for Crosby and was hit freely, while Engbretson for Brainerd, except in one inning, twirled a nice game, getting twelve strikeouts.

WHO'S WHO AT BRAINERD H. S.

Irma Brackner
"Full many a flower was born to blush unseen
And waste its sweetness on the desert air."

—That's why we are giving Irma headlines this week, for she's a Senior and all set to graduate "cum laude" in about six weeks. She's such an unassuming mortal that on the surface her motto appears to be "silence is golden," so it's about time the world is hearing more about this demure little damsel with her wealth of unshorn, golden locks. Her "bosom friends" know that her real motto is "all for fun, fun for all;" just a mere peep at the many mementoes of frolics in her plump, girl grin would attest to that.

When her twinkling eyes beam on one from behind her tortoise-rimmed specs, one can easily tell why she holds down the feature editorship on the Brainonian staff and we warn Ring Lardner and the rest of them to look to their laurels or Irma will be wearing them herself

Features of the Week Were Numerous Visits to Various Points of Importance in the Twin Cities and Vicinity

On Monday April 6, eight girls from the Home Economics department of the high school left for St. Paul to attend the fifteenth annual Boys' and Girls' Short Course which was held at the Minnesota Agricultural College. The entire week was devoted to classes in the morning and educational trips in the afternoon.

"Dickerack! Dickerack! Knickerbocker Boo! Junior Short Course Minnesota U."

This yell and many others rang through the streets as car after car chartered for the purpose, made its way to Stillwater, where the crowd was taken through the Minnesota State Prison. It was most interesting to learn the history of the Prison from the old frame building of 1849 with accommodations for about one hundred, to the magnificent prison plant of today, costing $285,999.95 and accommodating 1,007 men, (at present date). A large central corridor divides the two cell-houses, each containing 512 cells. Other interesting things were the Twin factory and warehouses, printing shop, school rooms, prison library, farm machinery buildings, hospital, dining halls, and kitchen.

Instructive lectures were given each morning in the auditorium, and classes were attended according to the number of the group, each girl receiving a number when registering. There were classes in sewing, cooking, canning, serving, and there were lessons given in making novelty articles from "next to nothing." There were bread and cake demonstrations and demonstrations in altering patterns and jello making.

This year a new course was taken up on "News Writing" by Miss Leonor Dunniga, Field Editor on the "Farmers Wife."

Wednesday afternoon a trip was taken through the Art Institute, where the guide explained all of the pictures, and statues, giving the life history of many of the artists. Dayton's store was also a place of interest, where the warehouses were inspected. In the evening a big banquet was enjoyed by all the members of the Short Course, and the school faculty.

Thursday was a busy day, as three trips were taken. The most important and most interesting of these was the visit to the State Capitol. The guide explained in detail the magnificent paintings and named the various stones and precious minerals used in the building. The crowd was taken to the Senate Gallery and stayed for some time watching the Senate in session. All of the rooms, including the Supreme Court room and Governor's reception room were visited. Next the Historical Building was visited and the Webb Publishing Company, both of which were very fascinating. On Friday a trip was made to Minnehaha Falls and to the Fish Hatcheries.

When one of the girls was asked what she thought of the Short Course she said, "One week there, is worth three at school according to the amount of things you learn."

One Day at Short Course
6:10—Prelude by alarm clock.
6:15—Song of Soap and Water.
6:30—Address by curling iron (same thing every day, four heads to curl in fifteen minutes.)

6:45—Questions start (where's my hat. Anyone seen my vanity case? Well, it was here last night (what was here last night might be anywhere by morning.)

7:00—Breakfast: pasteurized milk, cocoa, rolls and cereal.
7:15—Ready for events of the day, trip to the auditorium (about 100 yds.) for orders.

7:30—Classes start over in the Home Economics building. Then for a thrill of a lifetime, attending a bread demonstration. Learn Pledge at 7:30 class.

I pledge my head to clearer thinking, my heart to greater loyalty, my hands to greater service, and my health to better living for my club, my community, and my country.

8:25—Learn to make a "Next to nothing corner." Magicians have nothing on us for out of a piece of

Who, What and Where

The eight girls who attended the Short Course at the U. of Minnesota were Katherine Nolan, Alda James, Emma Jean Clarkson, Mercedes Johnson, Dorothy Ellison and Alice Johnson. A very good time is reported by all and they say that Kay Nolan was the shy and quiet one while Mercedes did all the "cutting up." Queer how people do change.

The Brainonian of last week stated that the Senior Class President was ill with the mumps. One would never think that the Seniors would have such childish things as that. It may set a bad example for the lower classmen. (The writers of the above article can thank their stars that the Senior reporter claims to have a sense of humor.)

The Seniors are now in the ninth inning with ninety-two men on bases and six weeks to go before graduation. Make the most of it!

Miss Rickard has collected a large coterie of voices for an outstanding commencement chorus and the orchestra will soon be doing overtime work to make this a commencement of commencements.

Much interest has been aroused over the display of the under class men's pictures in the 10,000 Lakes Studio window. The general consensus of opinion is that they turned out good (the pictures), but what about the turn-out of the Juniors? Very few masculine members were visible.

Emily Cocks, one of B. H. S.'s most famous cartoonists, has also contracted the mumps. Who'll be the next victim?

At a Senior meeting Monday night Rev. Patterson was selected as the speaker for baccalaureate.

wrapping paper some oil and paints we produced a lamp that would dazzle the eyes of a King.

9:30—New course of study just introduced this year: How to write successful items by use of six words—namely: what, when, where, who, why, and how.

10:30—How to prepare luncheons for club meetings. We made salad, cocoa, fruit punch, and sandwiches.

11:30—Back to dormitory to clean up for lunch.

11:45—Another appointment with curling iron, soap and water.

12:00—Lunch: Potatoes, meat, one kind of vegetable, milk and dessert. (No trouble selecting your salad fork here. They don't have any.)

12:30—Over to Auditorium for orders about trips for the afternoon.

12:45—Start for Webb Publishing Company.

2:00—Trip to Capital building.

3:00—See Senate in session. (Bill before them was: Should private schools be allowed to teach the Bible?)

4:00—Wait for street car.

4:15—Sang songs and gave yells on street cars. (We had chartered cars.)

5:30—Arrive at school campus.

5:45—Roll call at dormitory.

6:00—Chow in the dining hall.

6:30—Tumbled over to the auditorium.

7:00—Show began. ("Welcome Strangers")

9:30—Back to dormitory.

9:45—Roll call. (Some girls from Brainerd were missing. Then a beam of light on the subject—Here they come!)

10:00—And all's well in room 29. (Our room.)

10:30—Good Night Ladies. Sweet dreams to all.

As sayeth the American Legion Weekly:

The wife and daughter of Colonel Berry, camp commander, came to the gate after taps and demanded admission. The sentry objected.

"But, my dear man, you don't understand," expostulated the older woman, "we are the Berrys."

"I don't care if you're the cat's whiskers," retorted the sentry, "you can't get in at this hour."

April Fool
Now the winter months are over, And April is coming at last; The month brings with it its showers And the first day brings its jests.

BRAINLESS BITS
Clifford W.: "Are the spines on sand burrs leaves like the spines on cactus on the deserts to protect them from drouth?"

Miss Erstad: "No, they're seeds."

Clifford: "Gee, I wish they didn't have seeds then."

Norva K. (Botany): "However does Miss L. expect us to draw this fern leaf, anyway?"

Vivian E.: "Why, that's easy. Just draw a Christmas tree!"

Teacher: "Boyhood is something every person has."

Martius Seeger: "Oh, no, girls don't."

On Report Card Day, Emil Meifert: "Well, I got A, B—"

Kent Whitlock: "What in?"

Emil: "Football, last year."

Miss Erstad (In Phys. Geog.): "What is a barrel cactus?"

C. S.: "It's a cross between a tree and a sandburr."

Miss Hall (Ancient History): "Name the different ages in history."

Lena P.: "Stone age, bronze age, Iron age."

Miss Hall: "What age are we living in now?"

Lena P.: "Hard boiled age."

Milt Hill has turned farmer, according to his costume.

The District Commercial Contest was held here Saturday, April 18, St. Cloud, Little Falls, Crosby, Staples and Brainerd participating. Hi-Y Election

Last Wednesday the Hi-Y club elected the following officers for the coming school year:

President—Raymond Anderson.
Vice President—Norman Viken.
Secretary—Stewart Gile.
Treasurer—Howard Nicholson.
All of them went to the Hi-Y officers training council at Cloquet Friday and Saturday together with Alfred Dillan and ex-President Mark Patterson.

The representatives of the Hi-Y club of the north eastern part of the State attended this council. Among the speakers were Mr. MacLoud of Duluth, Bruce Fallman, Mr. Bland of Eveleth and Mr. Chase of Virginia. The council opened with a banquet on Friday evening. On Saturday the morning was spent in discussions on the duties of the officers and the afternoon in a discussion lead by Mr. Fallman on the work of the Hi-Y club and a fine speech by Mr. MacLoud.

Great kindness was shown us by our hosts and hostesses who very kindly gave over their homes for our lodging and by the Cloquet Y. M. C. A. who gave the use of the privilege of the building to us.

Election
Have you noticed the new hats in our department since the appearance of the last Brainonian? This is due to the article in the last issue in which Mr. Johnson commended us on the training we give at our end of the hall. (Normal Training Room, of course.) We are very grateful to him for this and in order to show our appreciation we are bestowing a great honor upon him. We have unanimously elected Mr. Johnson as president of the "Ladies Aid!"

Al: "You certainly sling a terrible liago. You ought to go to London and learn the King's English."

Mart: "Oh, I know he's English."

I'm off that girl for life. Why?

She asked me if I danced well. I was dancing with her when she asked me.

B. H. S. SCORES WIN IN FIRST GAME, 7-5;

LOCALS OUTPLAY THE RANGE TEAM

Brainerd High School chalked up its first baseball victory of the season last Saturday afternoon, when it defeated Crosby-Ironton at the latter's grounds by a score of 7-5.

The game was very interesting throughout, being well played for the first game of the season. Brainerd's outlook for a successful season was considerably brightened by its exhibition Saturday. B. H. S. trailed behind for eight innings and the score at the beginning of the ninth stood 5-3 in favor of Crosby. Brainerd then staged a successful rally, pounding the ball at will, bringing in four runs, more than enough to cinch the game.

Three of Crosby's runs were made when Engbretson passed three men in a row, the next man making a long drive, bringing all of them in.

The heavy hitting for Brainerd consisted of a double against the left field fence by Larson and a long three-bagger by Hanson.

Woock did the mound work for Crosby and was hit freely, while Engbretson for Brainerd, except in one inning, twirled a nice game getting twelve strikeouts.

WHO'S WHO AT BRAINERD H. S.

Irma Brackner
"Full many a flower was born to blush unseen
And waste its sweetness on the desert air."

—That's why we are giving Irma headlines this week, for she's a Senior and all set to graduate "cum laude" in about six weeks. She's such an unassuming mortal that on the surface her motto appears to be "silence is golden," so it's about time the world is hearing more about this demure little damsel with her wealth of unshorn, golden locks. Her "bosom friends" know that her real motto is "all for fun, fun for all;" just a mere peep at the many mementoes of frolics in her plump, girl grab, would attest to that.

When her twinkling eyes beam on one from behind her tortoise-rimmed specs, one can easily tell why she holds down the feature editorship on the Brainonian staff and we warn Ring Lardner and the rest of them to look to their laurels or Irma will be wearing them herself one of these days.

She is talented in many ways, music, drawing, acting, etc., but her greatest literary production and most stupendous achievement to date is the writing and dramatizing of the Senior '25 class prophecy which takes in the future lives of ninety-two people and presuming that you all agree that it was "no small job," we will now (as Muff Downie likes to say) quaff the foaming mug to the health and happiness of "ye class prophet."

JUNIOR DAY WAS A WONDERFUL SUCCESS

The Juniors have boasted of having the peppiest class in the high school and they certainly proved it last Monday when they turned out with flying colors to sell candy and pop and above all make money!

Leave it to the Juniors to put a thing over big! Candy, pop, ice cream, peanuts, anything you want to buy! Right over at this booth!

And everyone rushed right over—(maybe it was the many attractive Junior girls), anyway, everyone seemed irresistibly drawn to the candy booths, and once there, they bought eagerly.

Order after order went in for more candy, and at noon a regular lunch was served, of sandwiches and milk. The expenses were so great that they nearly offset the profit, but together with the $31.75 from the candy sale and the money from the Junior movie, all the expenses of the Junior-Senior Banquet will be defrayed.

Hurrah for the Juniors!

American Legion Corner

With the start of organization for The American Legion Endowment Fund in Minnesota, R. A. P. Holderby has been named the Field Secretary for the campaign and will visit as many of the larger communities in the state as possible to aid the committees of public spirited citizens and Legion workers in systematizing the detailed work of the endowment raising.

The endowment raising effort is in the hands of a state committee composed jointly of prominent citizens and Legion leaders, and corresponding city committees are being organized in each community. The Field Secretary will handle the details of the state committee work and advise with and assist the local workers with a view to so coordinating the many committees that the whole state may go "over the top" as a unit with its quota of the national fund for the care of disabled men and orphans of those who fell in the World War.

Judge C. W. Stanton of the Fifteenth Judicial District, has been commissioned a general. He was given that honorary title when he accepted leadership of the intensive member "war" which Ralph Gracie Post of Bemidji is staging, and he is directing operations in the campaign.

American Legion Memorial Poppy day has brought both medical relief and financial aid to disabled veterans, according to officials at national headquarters of the Legion Auxiliary. Funds from the sale of the poppies are applied to rehabilitation and hospitalization and dollars are brought directly to the pockets of disabled veterans from pay they receive from making the poppies.

The poppies are being made in the hospitals in nine states. In six states they are only to meet local demands. In Minnesota, Kansas and Wisconsin they are being made to fill national orders. A million and a half poppies have been made this year.

This means that in three states alone more than $15,000 has been paid to disabled veterans for making poppies. The poppy-making industry is a big thing in the hospitalized veteran's life and enables him to take his place as a wage-earner. Medical officials praise poppy-making as an excellent form of mental diversion for the restless veteran.

Tiny Mite Destroying Christmas Flowers

(By United Press)
Philadelphia, April 21.—Botanic experts at the University of Pennsylvania are being drafted to assist in the destruction of a mite which annually causes hundreds of thousands of dollars damage to the cyclamen, a widely used Christmas flower in America.

At the government experimental station near here, representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture have long investigated the destruction wrought by the mite. The mite, of the spider family, so small as to be virtually invisible, causes a streaking and distortion of the leaves and flowers on the cyclamen plant.

GRADING OF HAYS BEING CONSIDERED

(By United Press)
St. Paul, April 21.—A conference to consider further grading of hays will be held at University Farm late today. Government representatives who have been making a study of problems involved in St. Paul laboratories, and in laboratories at Kansas City and Washington, were ready to report at a conference of authorities from Minnesota, Wisconsin, the Dakotas, and Montana. Experts from the U. S. department of agriculture were here to take charge of the meeting.

A TIP FOR THE HOME DRESSMAKER

PRETTY AFTERNOON FROCK MADE OF COCOA-BROWN CHIFFON

FROCK HAS THE USUAL SLENDER BODY AND THREE-TIERED SKIRT

By HEDDA HOYT
Fashion Editor of the United Press
(Written for the United Press)

New York, April 21.—One of the prettiest afternoon frocks in this season's collection of imports, is one which may be copied by the home dressmaker or the woman who does her own sewing.

The frock is made of cocoa-brown chiffon and is trimmed with ruching of fringed taffeta ribbon of cocoa shade. The frock has the usual slender body with a three-tiered skirt and long flaring sleeves. The tiers begin above the knees, extending higher on one hip than on the other. Each tier is bordered with fringed ruching and the sleeves which are snug at the armhole and flaring at the wrist are bordered in ruching.

A flat bow of ribbon adorns the left shoulder and is matched by a bow on the right hip, where the slightly raised upper tier begins. The hemline is straight in spite of the fact that the two upper tiers are higher on the right hip than on the left, since the lower tier is cut in one with the frock. Anyone who understands how to make the shirred ruching can make a duplicate of this lovely frock. Of course, one can use taffeta ribbon fringing each edge of the ribbon, but this is more costly and requires more time than fringing taffeta material which comes by the yard.

One and one-half yards of taffeta are all that are required for the ruching. One cuts the taffeta in two or two and one-half inch strips, sews the strips together so that they form one long strip. Then with the dull edge of the scissors, one frays the threads of the bias edge to form a fringed edge. This is very quickly and easily done. When both edges of the strip are fringed, run a shirring through the center of the strip to give the desired fullness and baste on the frock. Then stitch the ruching to the frock with the machine keeping the stitch in the center of the strip. If the ruching is sufficiently fringed, the effect will be as soft as that of fur or feathers.

No longer is the white wedding gown forced upon the bride. Manufacturers of bridal outfits are conceding to the vogue for color and are introducing gowns of "Bridal Blush," a soft shell pink in preference to dead white and it is certainly a more flattering color than white to most women.

Where the frock is short and of heavy enough material to be worn without a petticoat, little matching bloomers of silk are worn. Usually the bloomer extends just below the knee and it is of the exact shade of the frock.

So popular has the peasant blouse become, worn with the suspended skirt, that the peasant tunic in solid color embroidered in contrasting shades has come into vogue. Bright red tunics which require but two or three inches of underslip beneath their hems are made with peasant neckline, full, embroidered sleeves shirred into a wristband and general peasant silhouette. Red seems to be the most

WILLIAM FOX SPECIAL PRODUCTION

Featured Player Proved Efficient Phone Operator

Alyce Mills, who plays Betty Blair, the beautiful telephone girl heroine in "Daughters of the Night," the newest William Fox attraction which shows at the Lyceum Theatre tonight and Wednesday, had to work hard to earn her "hello" spurs before she was allowed to say "number, please" in front of the camera.

The thrilling telephone picture was made with the co-operation and under the technical direction of high popular tunic color although there are many blues, taupes and greens.

Just a little newer than the felt hat is the hat on similar lines made of silk bengaline or belting ribbon. Felt hats have killed themselves with popularity and the smart women prefer the silk hat that is made to appear as simple and as chic as the felts.

Ensemble costumes worn this week at Atlantic City are mostly of neutral shades, such as grays and tans. Tunics worn with them are of solid color or of figured materials.

Handmade shawls of cream colored wool with bright designs and deep fringe are worn over white cloth sports frocks at the Winter resorts.

Chinese embroidery is used on many smart street frocks. Mandarin skirts are combined with black satin and are appearing on Fifth Avenue these early Spring days. One attractive girl wore a simple black satin frock, beltless and with straight lines, with panels of blue Chinese embroidery set in the front and rear of the skirt. The upper portion of her frock was untrimmed, but was cut on mandarin lines with set-in kimono sleeves and up-standing neckline which tied together in front with narrow blue cord. A yellow mandarin skirt was made into a straight-line tunic and worn over a scant blown satin slip.

REORGANIZATION BILL TO INFLUENCE FUTURE POLITICS

(Special Correspondence)

St. Paul, April 21.—Some of the members of the state legislature grudgingly admit that Governor Christianson has scored an impressive and important victory in the passage of the reorganization bill.

And while they are making these grudging admissions they are also hoping that the day is not far distant when the governor will wish the bill had never been passed. Which is not at all likely.

It is conservatively estimated that the bill, as originally proposed by the interim committee, is about 75 per cent pure. In other words, the legislature has revamped what probably amounts to 25 per cent of the first draft.

The reorganization of the state government, which will become effective July 1, is nothing more nor less than putting the state's finances more nearly in the control of the governor than they have ever been. It will regulate the purchasing power of the state—the part of the government's affairs where radical savings are most certain to result from study and a careful application of good sound business principles.

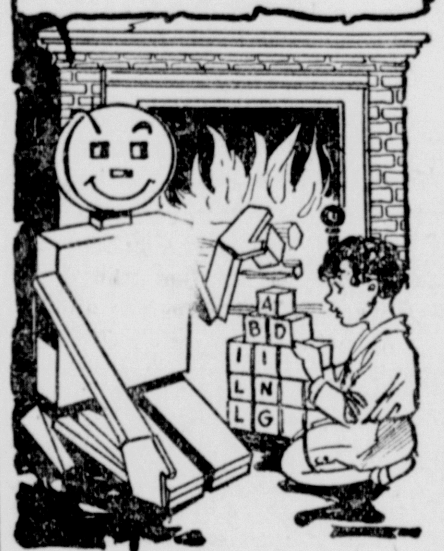

Passage of the bill is the outstanding event of the legislative session which comes to an end tomorrow. The influence it will have on things political cannot at this early date be anticipated. One of the astute newspaper editors of the state—a man not at all friendly to Republicans—made the assertion some time ago that if the reorganization bill was passed by the legislature, Governor Christianson would be re-elected in 1926 by a majority of 250,000 votes, and that if it was not passed his majority would be 400,000 votes.

C. PAINE PRESIDES AT COUNCIL

25 Property Owners Protest Against Proposed Alley Sewer in Downtown Business Section

E. O. Webb appeared before the city council at its regular meeting on Monday night, in regard to the paving of Holly street east from North Fifth street. He was informed that the petition for this paving now stands at the head of the list of petitions for future paving.

D. E. Whitney made application to construct a two-story fireproof addition to his property on Front street, plans for which have been approved by the building inspector and on motion carried the application was granted.

City ordinance No. 322, adopting the proposed building code, was upon motion given its second reading at Monday night's meeting.

A request was received from F. B. Congdon, chairman of the Oak Lawn town board, asking the city to aid in the maintenance of a road running north from the Oak street road along the east city limits, and on motion this matter was referred to the street committee.

Alderman Ritari of the Fourth ward, asked that 140 feet of six-inch sewer pipe be placed along Maple street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth streets, to drain a water hole. This matter was referred to the street committee with instructions to report at the next meeting of the council.

The property committee recommended the purchase of two 55-foot ladders from the Laverne Fire Equipment Co., at a cost of $210, and on motion carried these ladders were ordered purchased.

On motion carried John Ethau was granted permission to open a sand pit on Holland's hill, sand to be taken therefrom at the rate of 15 cents per load, and under the supervision of the property committee.

J. F. Harmon made application to install two gasoline pumps at his property, 719 H street, and on motion carried this was granted.

A catch basin was ordered installed on C street, between Second and Third avenues, at a cost of $30.

John Imgrund and C. A. Stadlbauer appeared before the council complaining that automobiles parked in the center of South Sixth street blocked the entrances to their respective places of business, and the matter was referred to the city attorney to report at the next meeting.

The city attorney was on motion carried instructed to notify the Water and Light board that the proper procedure had not been followed in regard to the advertising for bids on the proposed new street lighting system.

From the Water and Light Board we learn that the present procedure is proper. The Board is investigating a new street lighting system, and as a part of this investigation it is ascertaining the cost of it. This is done by obtaining bids from reliable contractors, after which the Board determines what can be done and how to do it best. When these steps are determined and the items needed and cost thereof definitely determined, the Board will appear before the council and ask for the authority to spend the money, which is exactly in accordance with the charter provision. This expenditure is being made as all similar expenditures for improvements or maintenance where the purchase of new material exceeds five hundred dollars, like when buying a carload of cedar poles, or cast iron water mains, or real estate.

The report of receipts, deposits and expenditures of the Water and Light Board for the month of March, or from March 6th to April 4, was introduced, and on motion was rejected and the clerk instructed to return the report with instructions to have it conform to the calendar month reports of the clerk and city treasurer.

A petition, signed by 25 property owners, protesting against the proposed alley sewer in the downtown section was received and on motion was placed on file.

The usual bills were allowed subject to the approval of the purchasing committee. Aldermen H. F. Michael, R. H. Paine and V. E. Quastrom were absent. The president and vice president both being absent, C. H. Paine was, on motion selected temporary chairman, and presided during the meeting.

The last meeting of the present city council will be held on Monday evening, May 4th, and the new council will hold its first meeting on the next night, Tuesday, May 5th.

Farmers in County Should Avail
Themselves of Chance to Buy
This Cheap Explosive

Farmers throughout Crow Wing and Cass counties have been using a great deal of explosive the past year. The government has been carting a new explosive called Pyrotol about the same strength as 40 per cent dynamite and adapted for stump blowing and rock blasting. The county agent at Brainerd has unloaded and distributed one car of 20,000 pounds in the county this spring, and has ordered a second car of 20,000 pounds. As there are still several thousand pounds not sold, farmers in this territory should avail themselves of this cheap explosive and get in touch with him if they have any land-clearing to do. The amount of government explosive is limited and is not being made as some people suppose by the government.

Pyrotol is shot with No. 6 caps, does not freeze and has no toxic effects.

The campaign for the support of the Crow Wing Council Boy Scouts of America has netted $1612 for the first three days.

The inability on the part of some of the team workers to have the opportunity to see all their prospects has caused the campaign to some what slow up, but according to the men who are working to put across the Scout program, the work will be carried on until all the prospects are seen and the entire amount reached.

The prospect cards have been collected and are being re-distributed, and some new workers are going at the clean up with a vim and are hoping to reach the goal of $3,000 before Wednesday night.

There are still some one hundred and fifty prospects to see and the workers are calling on them as fast as time will permit.

The team captains who are working on the campaign are Wm. Hayden, C. N. Erickson, John F. Woodhead, W. A. M. Johnstone, R. L. Geist, O. A. Peterson, S. A. Alderman, Frank Johnson, D. E. Whitney, A. L. Wyatt, Geo. Lowe, S. Newman, Bob Duerr, Dr. Herzog. There will be several added to the list.

In municipal court Tuesday morning Clyde Brown plead not guilty to a charge of non support of a minor child. He asked for a jury trial and the case was continued until April 22nd, bail being set at $100.

On Monday afternoon Anton Isaacson was arraigned on a statutory charge. He waived examination and was bound over to the general term of the district court, bonds being set at $1,000.

Ansel Isaacson waived examination on a charge of transporting liquor, and was held to the action of the district court, bonds being set at $250.

George Erickson, charged with obstructing arrest, demanded an examination, which was set for April 24th.

Richard Long, Earl Matheson and John Conway, each plead guilty to charges of intoxication. Long and Conway were each fined $15; Matheson was fined $10.

J. M. Frank and Ansel Isaacson each plead guilty to charges of driving an automobile while intoxicated. Each was fined $50 and restrained from driving a motor vehicle for three months.

"MINSTREL MIMICS" OF THE LIONS CLUB

Was to Have Been Staged in April And Has Been Postponed For a Month

DIRECTOR COMES ON APRIL 30

Show Will be Given Tuesday and Wednesday, May 19 and 20,
at New Park Theatre

The Brainerd Lions Club minstrel show, "The Minstrel Mimics" which was to have been staged early in April, was necessarily postponed a month, because the John B. Rogers Producing Company, could not furnish the production on the dates that the advance agent had reserved. All preliminaries have now been settled, and the company has notified the club that the director will arrive on Thursday, April 30th, to begin rehearsals for the show which will be given on Tuesday and Wednesday, May 19th and 20th, at the New Park theatre.

R. L. Geist is chairman of the general committee in charge of all preparations for "The Minstrel Mimics" and has several sub-committees working on various phases of the preliminaries. Elmer Franson has the pleasant task of selecting the members of the cast, obtaining young ladies for the chorus, and having such details completed so that there will be no loss of time after the director arrives.

The show is divided into three parts, the first an up-to-date minstrel with interlocutor, end men and circle; the second "Pop-Pop-Popular Song" review, and the third a snappy musical comedy, entitled "The Isle of Never Known."

The minstrel show section should not be confused with the old, negro slap-stick variety, which has long since passed to its reward. "The Minstrel Mimics" is the last word in shows of its kind, and will be a delightful surprise to those who are expecting a repetition of the performance popular a generation ago.

The song review is a short skit, featuring several beautiful choruses, that is sandwiched between the two big sections, and just gives the audience an opportunity to get its breath before the musical comedy is staged.

"The Isle of Never Known" is characterized by the producer, as "a screamingly funny musical comedy" one that will leave a tickle in the ribs of the audience for many a day to come. The plot is laid on the South Sea islands, and the characters include the island queen, ship-wrecked Americans, and a bevy of hula girls.

The John B. Rogers Producing Company needs no introduction to Brainerd audiences. For several years past this company has staged the Elks' show with signal success, and have always received a hearty welcome on each return engagement. The fact that the company will have charge of the Lions Club show assures its being produced in the very best manner, and in all of the magnificence that characterizes the company's shows. It is the club's property that its entertainment on May 19th and 20th will be the finest and most elaborate that has been seen in Brainerd during the past year.

PADDOCK SAYS INDIAN MAY BEAT NURMI

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, April 21.—Charley Paddock, the fastest man in the world at a short distance, believes that no white man lives who can beat Paavo Nurmi, the world's champion distance runner, in any race of a mile or better. But he has an opinion that Nurmi can be beaten and that he might be beaten when he reaches the Pacific Coast on the tour that he is now making.

In a story, written on the tour he is taking around the world with Loren Murchison, Paddock expresses the opinion that one of several fine Indian runners in the West may beat Nurmi and he gives some interesting dope about his theories.

"Nurmi has swept our continent with his running victories," Paddock writes, "and no American has been able to check him. Our athletes have been forced back and back, until at last only the champions of the Far West remain undefeated, and now they will take their last stand on April 25, with retreat impossible, and give their best to whip him.

"The Pacific Coast has centered its hope on the Indian runners. The white man has failed. His science and his generalship have not been enough to combat the stamina and the patience of Paavo Nurmi. It seems that he can only be beaten when some one of equal stamina and patience is placed against him. And so the Indian has been selected.

"Strange, isn't it, when you stop to think? Trace for a moment America's history, how the white men forced their way across plain and over mountain, driving the original Americans from their homes back and back until they could retreat no farther. With science and generalship, with numbers and inventions, the Indian was conquered. But science and generalship has failed this time, and the strength of the white man is not great enough to equal this enduring Finn. So we have turned to the red man again, and he has answered.

SAINTS SLATED FOR ANOTHER PENNANT

(Special Correspondence)
St. Paul, April 21.—Minnesota's junior baseball champions of the world—St. Paul's Saints—are headed for home and will be given the usual and a typical welcome by the mobs. Plans for the reception are already under way. To all but a sporting editor here and there, it looks very much as though the Saints are headed for another championship. Brains will tell. And when supported by the normal amount of beef there isn't much left to the imagination.

Rochester Admitted to South Minnesota Loop

Mankato, April 21.—Rochester has been admitted as the eighth team in the Southern Minnesota Baseball league, with opening games scheduled for May 10. Final plans for the circuit were completed at a meeting Sunday. Eligibility exceptions on several players were agreed on by attending interests.

St. Paul, April 21.—Score a knock-down for Minnesota!

A gentleman who resides in Los Angeles has written to say that he has a few thousand dollars in cold storage which he will be only too glad to invest in St. Paul or its environs.

The truth is dawning out, and it is only a question of time when all can be told. In respectfully declining to admit that California has most to brag about, Minnesota extends a warm welcome to the gentleman from Los Angeles with a request that he come at once and see for himself that in Minnesota, after all, is the garden spot of the universe.

ATHLETICS ARE A SURPRISE AND ARE PLAYING FINE BASEBALL

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, April 21.—Cincinnati and Cleveland, Ohio's entries in the major leagues, are off to a flying start, setting a fast pace over the first lap of the championship race.

The Cleveland Indians have not dropped a game yet and the Cincinnati Reds have lost only one game. The Indians have won four games and the Cincinnati club has taken five out of six.

The Indians have been the big surprise of the early season, but the critics feel that the club is playing over its head and riding fast for a fall. The early season spurt of the Boston Red Sox last year is recalled by the sprint Tris Speaker has his club making.

While the Reds were generally picked as nothing better than a fourth place club, their early success isn't anything of a shock. Everyone knows that Jack Hendricks has some fine pitchers and as long as they deliver as they have been doing the team will have to be considered seriously.

Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics, ranked as a possibility in the American league, are playing fine baseball. The team is close behind the Indians, in second place, but it may be going a little faster than its real speed. Good pitching and powerful stick work from Poole, Bishop and Cochrane, who are hitting over .500, are helping the club in its sprint.

John McGraw has his Giants moving at a fast pace again and the team looks like a sure pennant winner. Scott and Dean have shown some fine pitching and the team has been hitting well. So far the Giants have not been able to present their full strength in the field.

The Pittsburgh Pirates have been the big disappointment of the early season, but the club is having a lot of tough luck. Niehaus, the regular first baseman, is out of the game and Charley Grantham is not doing much of a job in filling in for him.

FCRD BRIDGE IN CONTROVERSY

St. Paul, April 21.—Mayor Arthur E. Nelson has gone through many fires since his first term as the head of St. Paul's government began in 1922 but never has the heat been so great as since he voted approval of the Twin Cities Bridge commission plans of the proposed Ford bridge.

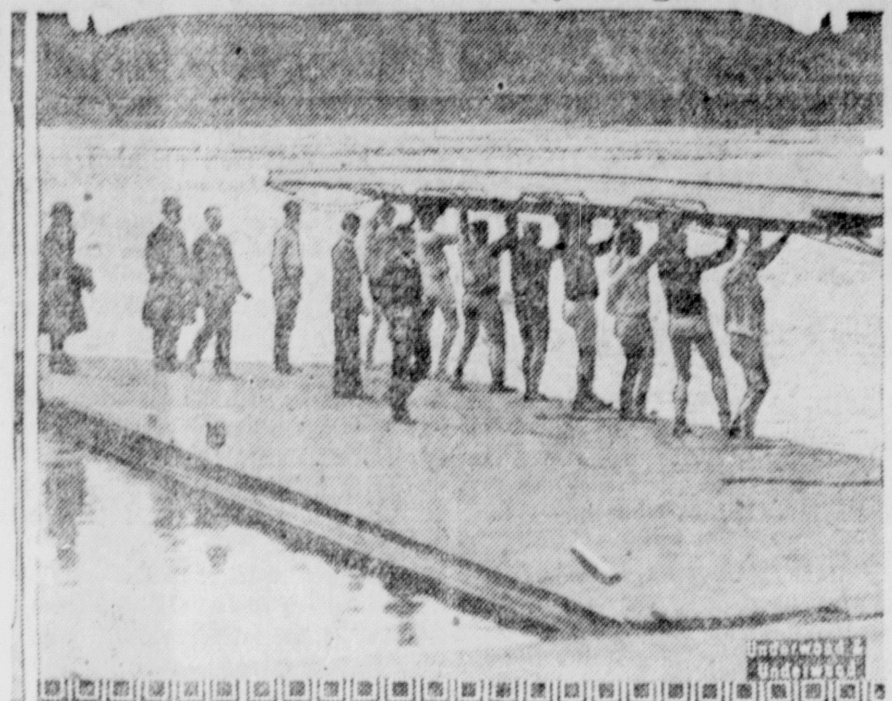

The Ford Motor company declined to endorse the plans, declaring them to represent what would be an eyesore and a disgrace from an architectural point of view.

Civic organizations and newspapers have been calling on the mayor to vote down the plans. The mayor, however, stood his ground and cast his vote to pass them, which means that actual construction work will soon be under way.

NORTHWEST REGIONAL ADVISORY BOARD MEETS IN ST. PAUL TODAY

St. Paul, April 21.—There will be no car shortage for the handling of the northwest's commercial and agricultural products this year if the Northwest Regional Advisory Board, meeting here today, can help it.

The eleventh formal meeting of the board was called at 10 a. m. at the St. Francis hotel. The board's officers and committee members pledged themselves to the big job of bringing the northwest through the year 1925 without a car shortage or freight tie-up. They pledged their utmost efforts, individually and collectively, to repeat, if possible the impressive success of last year which resulted in the smoothest handling of a record crop in this section.

Every effort was made to insure the attendance at today's meeting of a large and representative group of board members and northwest shippers of every classification.

Plans also were laid to expand the operations of the board and increase the membership.

Chairman J. F. Reed opened the meeting. J. E. Gorman, president of the Rock Island Lines, then addressed the conference.

Recommendations of the executive committee for extension of publicity work, creation of a permanent membership committee, transfer of the territory comprising the upper peninsula of Michigan and the entire state of Wisconsin east of the line of the Northwestern from St. Paul to Superior, Wis., excluding the city of Superior, to the Midwest Regional Advisory Board, and that the word "shippers" be substituted for "Regional" in the name of the board, were read.

Reports followed. This afternoon the car supply movement and distribution will be studied and unfinished and new business will be taken up.

The executive committee recommended today that the July meeting of the board be held in Grand Forks, N. D., in accordance with an invitation from the commercial club there.

St. Paul, April 21.—Minnesota editors will assemble for a two days' study of newspaper and print shop problems at the Editors' Short Course offered by the University of Minnesota at University Farm, this city, May 7 to 9.

Two main problems will be discussed. The first is the proposal to employ a field secretary to further the interests of the country newspapers of Minnesota.

H. Z. Mitchell, president of the Minnesota Editorial association, and G. L. Caswell, managing director of the Iowa Press association, will lead the discussion.

The second is the problem of building a larger local advertising patronage. This will be considered from the angle of cooperation with manufacturers and wholesalers, the writing of more effective display ads for merchants and banks, and more systematic solicitation.

A complimentary dinner will be given the editors at University Farm Thursday, May 7, by the Minneapolis Journal.

Gland Patient In Running Race Amazes Audience

Breasting the tape with a final burst of almost superhuman speed, with the sparkle of victory glinting in his eye, a man 73 years of age hurtled across the line a triumphant victor in a 50-yard race in the amazing time of 6 seconds. Onlookers were amazed to see this aged runner, who had his waning strength revived by glandular treatment, almost equal the world's running record for 50 yards. This almost unbelievable incident occurred at the annual field meet at one of California's state institutions.

It was another victory for Science, proving again that youthful vigor, stamina, ambition and power may be restored by reviving the vital glands of the body.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Co. will supply you.—Adv.

Gland Patient In Running Race Amazes Audience

Breasting the tape with a final burst of almost superhuman speed, with the sparkle of victory glinting in his eye, a man 73 years of age hurtled across the line a triumphant victor in a 50-yard race in the amazing time of 6 seconds. Onlookers were amazed to see this aged runner, who had his waning strength revived by glandular treatment, almost equal the world's running record for 50 yards. This almost unbelievable incident occurred at the annual field meet at one of California's state institutions.

It was another victory for Science, proving again that youthful vigor, stamina, ambition and power may be restored by reviving the vital glands of the body.

Glandogen, the new scientific gland tonic, which is prepared in convenient tablet form, for men and for women, provides a simple method of taking glandular treatment. Accept no substitutes. Insist on genuine Glandogen, the original gland tonic. Johnson's Pharmacy and Economy Drug Co. will supply you.—Advt.
